

Neurons are simulated. Any spikes are immediately decoded to form a vector representation of the activity of the neurons.

Neurons are simulated. Spikes are queued for transmission over the network.

